Foreword . . .

"FROM our tower to our goal" was the thought in Trojan hearts this year, as young men and women were challenged by the education and training of Troy. It was an exciting and memorable year, especially for the more than seven hundred graduates as all learned to study and observe the world around them. Each Trojan had his own goal for which to strive. Whether they would be doctors, lawyers, teachers, or secretaries—each realized that the beginning of his future was under the tower. They will leave Troy eager and well prepared to meet every challenge. Though the future is uncertain, each is confident that there will be a place for them in the world. We believe this success goes "from our tower to our goal".

DIRECTING Trojans in many phases of life were the members of the city and Topeka High School administration. Throughout the year they were on hand to point the way to each student's goal. Conscious of perfecting the mental, physical, and moral aspects, they worked for the benefit of each and every student to make 1967 a real learning experience for all.

ADMINISTRATION

Dedicated Men Comply With Unique Challenges

School Board members, assisted by Dr. Merle R. Bolton, Superintendent of Schools, worked together to solve problems brought before the city administration this year. Selection of new teachers and repair and rebuilding of schools damaged in the June 8 tornado were only two of the tasks facing these highly trained men. Additionally, they were required to cope with expanding enrollment and other financial and legal problems. These they handled without neglecting the quality of instruction or ignoring the physical equipment needed for all the schools. The untiring contributions of these men helped to make the 1966-1967 school year a most valuable experience.

Administrators Strive To Obtain Varied Goals

ALWAYS ready to lend a helping hand was the THS Administration. The staff of four principals and four counselors met each challenge with an answer. Besides coordinating activities and curriculum at Topeka High, they had the job of presenting needs and ideas to the City Board of Education and then carrying out their policies. Along with the addition of a new counselor, several other staff positions were changed in order to meet present-day demands. Mr. Burnette headed the group making every effort to take advantage of opportunities to help make 1966-1967 a successful school year.

MORE than a hundred courses and departments offered Troy's students great variety of classes and considerable specialization. These courses were designed to meet specific college requirements and training for jobs. There was something for everyone stimulating each to investigate and understand the world around them. Trojans were fortunate to have comfortable surroundings in which to study as well as teachers instructing the way to wide-spread goals.

Grammar Concentrates On Composition Study

IN a world which daily demonstrates the need for better understanding of people and cultures, Troy's largest department, English, offers not only the basics in the fundamental field of communication but also makes available to the inquiring student a wide range of subjects and courses. The prescribed courses in grammar and English may be followed by world and British literature, creative writing, journalism, speech, debate, or play production. Contests including those of national scope, give the student an opportunity to compete and see their efforts in print. Interest was stimulated this year by new textbooks which stress composition as well as grammar.

INQUISITIVE faces are intent upon the study of composition and grammar.

Books Inspire Trojans Greater Achievement

TROY'S library catered to students needs this year by the availability of current news, pamphlets, and magazines for research. Endless shelves provided a great variety of fiction and non-fiction books for many hours of enjoyment. Ye Olde Bookshoppe was introduced this year as a means to sell paperback books to students during the year. The old English styling and atmosphere helped to contribute to the achievement of many students. Trojans are assisted in their selections by two librarians and three technical assistants along with several student proctors.

State-Wide Practicing Improves Speech Skill

AT the end of the '66-'67 debate season, Topeka High's debaters had placed in a total of 16 tournaments. Both the experienced and the novice debaters won one first place. The novices took two second places and one third place. Troy's debate squad placed third in the District Tournament which was hosted by Highland Park High School on January 13 and 14. This year's debate season proved to be a rewarding experience for Troy's "fast talkers."

WHETHER Trojans desired basic business requirements or advanced preparation for careers in Science and Technology, the THS Mathematics department adjusted to the personal need of each student. Trojans were offered a variety of math courses ranging from basic math to the more complex Algebra and Trigonometry. However, a new area has been introduced to Topeka High — the Computer. As the world moves to the Gemmini-Apollo age, the computer comes to THS, thus bringing a new concept — computer programming. Vast opportunities present themselves with this new field of service. The THS math department moves with the times to the future.

Inquisitive Minds Study Mysteries Of Nature

Enrolled this year in the Trojan Science department were students taking subjects ranging from Biology and Physical Science to Botony, Physiology, Physics, and Chemistry. Aided by interesting films and lectures, these students studied textbooks and worked on study sheets in order to meet the demands of these courses. Besides taking part in classwork, ambitious Trojans took advantage of the Science Fair as an additional means of testing their skills and increasing their knowledge. For a few students with special talents and interests, the Topeka Science Seminar was another way in which they learned more through guest speakers and discussions.

Novel Humanities Class Involves Four Teachers

NEW to the Social Studies curriculum this year was the addition of the "Humanities" course. The course, open to seniors, was to give a basic background in culture to students. Four teachers from different departments were the instructors: Mrs. Cavanaugh (art), Miss Herrick (drama), Mr. Hill (world history), and Mr. Williams (music). Economics, history, current events, government, and psychology were other courses designed to help the student learn more about his world. Government classes were concerned with this year's local election. Students studied government and history in order to someday take part in the democratic system.

Countries Reflected By Foreign Languages

THS language students who were studying French, German, Latin, or Spanish for either the first or second year not only learned the fundamentals of their particular language but also grew to understand the thoughts and feelings of the people of other countries. Many of these students were also able to increase their knowledge of the structure of our own language and the origin of many English words. The advanced language classes studied their language's classics and culture and through conversation were enabled to write and speak their foreign tongues quite fluently.

Students Look Toward Success In Future

STEADY tapping of keys in the typing rooms gave a very busy atmosphere to the business department. Students gained knowledge in business law, bookkeeping, business math, and business English. Typing and shorthand were the most popular courses. Electric and manual typewriters, as well as adding machines and IBM equipment were operated by students. Seniors who wanted definite employment after high school instead of college were eligible for on-the-job training. FBLA, the business club, helped Trojans to realize future opportunities. Skills acquired from these business courses trained students to be competent office workers after graduation.

Co-Op Students Plan New Career Aspects

CAREER aspects were looked into by members of THS' distributive education classes. Students enrolled in Co-op received on-the-job training while being paid. Senior Trojans worked as professional assistants, office workers, file clerks, and salesmen; and at the same time, completed their graduation requirements. They received practical training in pricing, change making, customers' problems, advertising principles and also how to handle emergency situations. At the end of the year apprentices felt confident about interviews, benefits, wage payments, and common business ethics.

TROY'S Physical Education program is planned to stress the importance of healthy bodies and good sportsmanship. When the weather permits, the girls go outside and participate in such activities as hockey, speedball, track, tennis and archery. During the winter they learn gymnastics, basketball, volleyball and modern dance. Swimming is taught all year. Sophomores work mainly on perfecting their strokes and juniors are given the opportunity to get their Senior Life Saving. The Senior Leaders are girls who have shown initiative and ability in Physical Education. Their role is to aid the teacher and demonstrate different skills to the students.

Girls Practice Planning Meals, Clothes, Budget

GIRLS at THS interested in homemaking were offered a variety of courses in the home economics department. Besides the usual basic sewing and cooking courses girls were able to take home decoration, child development, social living, international foods, and home management. This wide curriculum enabled girls to prepare individually for their home life after finishing school, so that they would be confident and secure. The planning of meals, wardrobes, budgets, and schedules was good practice for students. Poise and good grooming were undertaken in several of the classes. Tomorrow's homemakers have been well trained through these courses at Topeka High School.

Although most of the students were interested in art as a hobby, many were seriously considering a career in one of its many fields. The students in all the classes were encouraged to express their own feelings in order to develop a sense of creativeness and pride in their own work.

Performances Demand Extra Time And Effort

THS Orchestra proved to be one of the best and most active orchestras in Kansas this year. In the fall, they joined with West and Highland Park in forming an All City Orchestra Clinic and presented the annual Pop Concert. The orchestra accompanied the Modern Dance Show and the musical, My Fair Lady. They took part in various assemblies, played for several dinners and receptions and participated in the State Music Contest. With the desire for personal improvement, many orchestra members joined The Topeka Youth Symphony. The orchestra also gave concerts in three elementary and two junior high schools to help the musical appreciation of these young students.

DILIGENT practice pays off at the Pop Concert as Mr. Williams directed members of the orchestra.

UNDER the new direction of Mr. Bruce Hoad, the Trojan Band proved to be one of the most active and original bands ever at THS. Throughout the fall, the band played at Troy's home football games and took part in the half-time shows of each. The band also traveled to K.U. to take part in the annual K.U. Band Day proceedings. Together with the Drill Team and Majorettes, the band marched in the THS Homecoming parade and the Veteran's Day parade. Members of the Trojan Band, forming a number of smaller bands, played at Troy's Home basketball games and accompanied various performers during the half-time routines. The band also presented its annual concert in the spring.

Girls Specialize Style In Twirling Intricacies

SPECIAL skill in the art of baton twirling gained the majorettes many admiring glances this year. They performed at all home games and at one away game together with the Trojan Band and Drill Team. They helped present an unusual and interesting half-time show at one of Troy's home basketball games. They also led the band and Drill Team in the Topeka High Homecoming parade, the Kansas University Band Day parade, and the Veteran's Day parade. The majorettes spent many long hours practicing before and after school and during first hour with their batons to achieve precision individually and as a team in addition to helping the band with its business and records.

—DRILL TEAM

Highsteppers Perform Routines With Pride

OFTEN proving to be the most interesting attraction to many spectators at various school activities the Trojan Drill Team completed a rough season of performing with much stamina and enthusiasm. They performed during many football and basketball half time shows. On a bitter cold day in November, the drill team faithfully accompanied the band to the K. U. Band Day and marched many blocks through Lawrence in their less than warm uniforms. Members also accompanied the band on trips taken to out of town games. The excellent timing, coordination, and showmanship of the drill team members was obtained through many weeks of practice and instruction by Mrs. Spencer.

Basic Classes Prepare For Productive Future

TWENTY-TWO basic classes are offered in THS' Industrial Arts Department. These classes include printing, electricity, woodworking, auto mechanics, mechanical drawing, machine shop, radio, and a relatively new one, driver education. Though most classes in this department were made up of boys, a few adventuresome girls tried their hands at drawing and lettering. Industrial Arts students had the opportunity to develop talents, prepare for a career, or learn a productive hobby.

Boys Choose Training From Technical Areas

TOPEKA HIGH'S vocational training department offered seven courses for those boys wishing to begin work in the vocation of their choice immediately upon graduation. Students wishing to enroll applied before their sophomore year and entered the program with the approval of the teacher in the desired course. Whether the future career called for a course in welding, photography, machine shop, auto mechanics, electricity, radio, or printing, the students gained not only a general knowledge of their chosen field but also valuable training in the more technical areas.

—SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Teacher-Pupil Subjects Improve Relationships

NOW in its fourth year, a program of special education gave handicapped students an opportunity to pursue subjects accompanied by closer teacher-student relationships. Three full-time study hall supervisors guided students during their in-school study time. The students took scholastic tests, prepared classwork, utilized library facilities, and kept appointments with counselors during their study hall time. The audio-visual program and the language lab were also a part of special programs. Run by special proctors, these services were available to all other departments for use as teaching aids.

—PROCTORS

Responsible Students Add Essential Help

ALTHOUGH students serving as prcotors held certain responsibilities not required in a study hall, the posts provided a quiet place to study when daily tasks were completed. Those students who assisted teachers did so by taking attendance, checking papers, recording grades, and running errands. Door proctors checked passes, kept watch on the doors and halls, and gave directions to school visitors. Library assistants were usually busy shelving or checking out books. Necessary requirements of proctors were a sense of responsibility, good use of time, and a willingness to work.

—SUMMER SCHOOL

Extra Summer Courses Helpful To Trojans

MANY high school students from various city schools met daily at Topeka High for four or eight week sessions of summer school. Students enrolled in the many offered courses for various reasons. Some wanted to gain credits from classes which they could not work into their regular schedules while others simply wanted to take courses which were of interest or future usefulness. Because it was necessary to lengthen classes and increase homework, most students found themselves working as hard as they did during the regular school year even though few enrolled in more than one course.

—BEHIND THE SCENES

Job Deserving Credit-Maintenance Of THS

CARING for the halls of Troy and providing over 2000 hungry Trojans with food at noon was a challenging task handled well by the custodians and cafeteria staff daily. Keeping the lighting and heating systems in good working condition, the halls and classrooms clear, and laundry washed were a few of the many services performed throughout the year by the staff of custodians. Starting early each day, the cafeteria staff worked throughout the morning preparing vaious dishes to provide Trojans with balanced lunches. Topeka High could not have been run sufficiently without the cooperation and services of these essential groups.

BETWEEN registration of opening day and graduation night lie the events that make up a school year. Music and drama productions, the All-School Christmas Party, Junior-Senior Prom, and regular varsities entertained students throughout the year. Students from other lands enjoyed these events while introducing Trojans to other new cultures. Activities for every interest helped each person take an active part in his school.

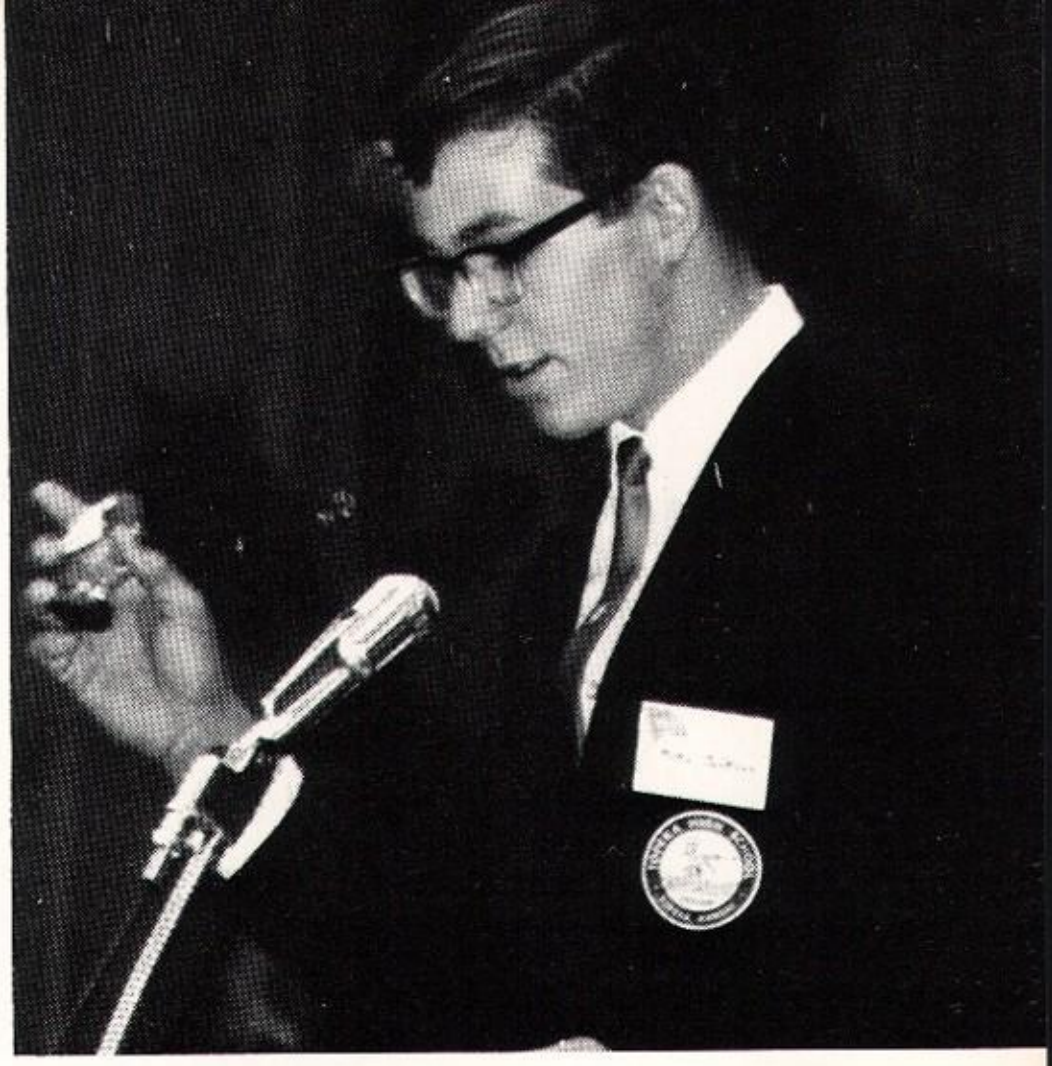
—STUDENT COUNCIL

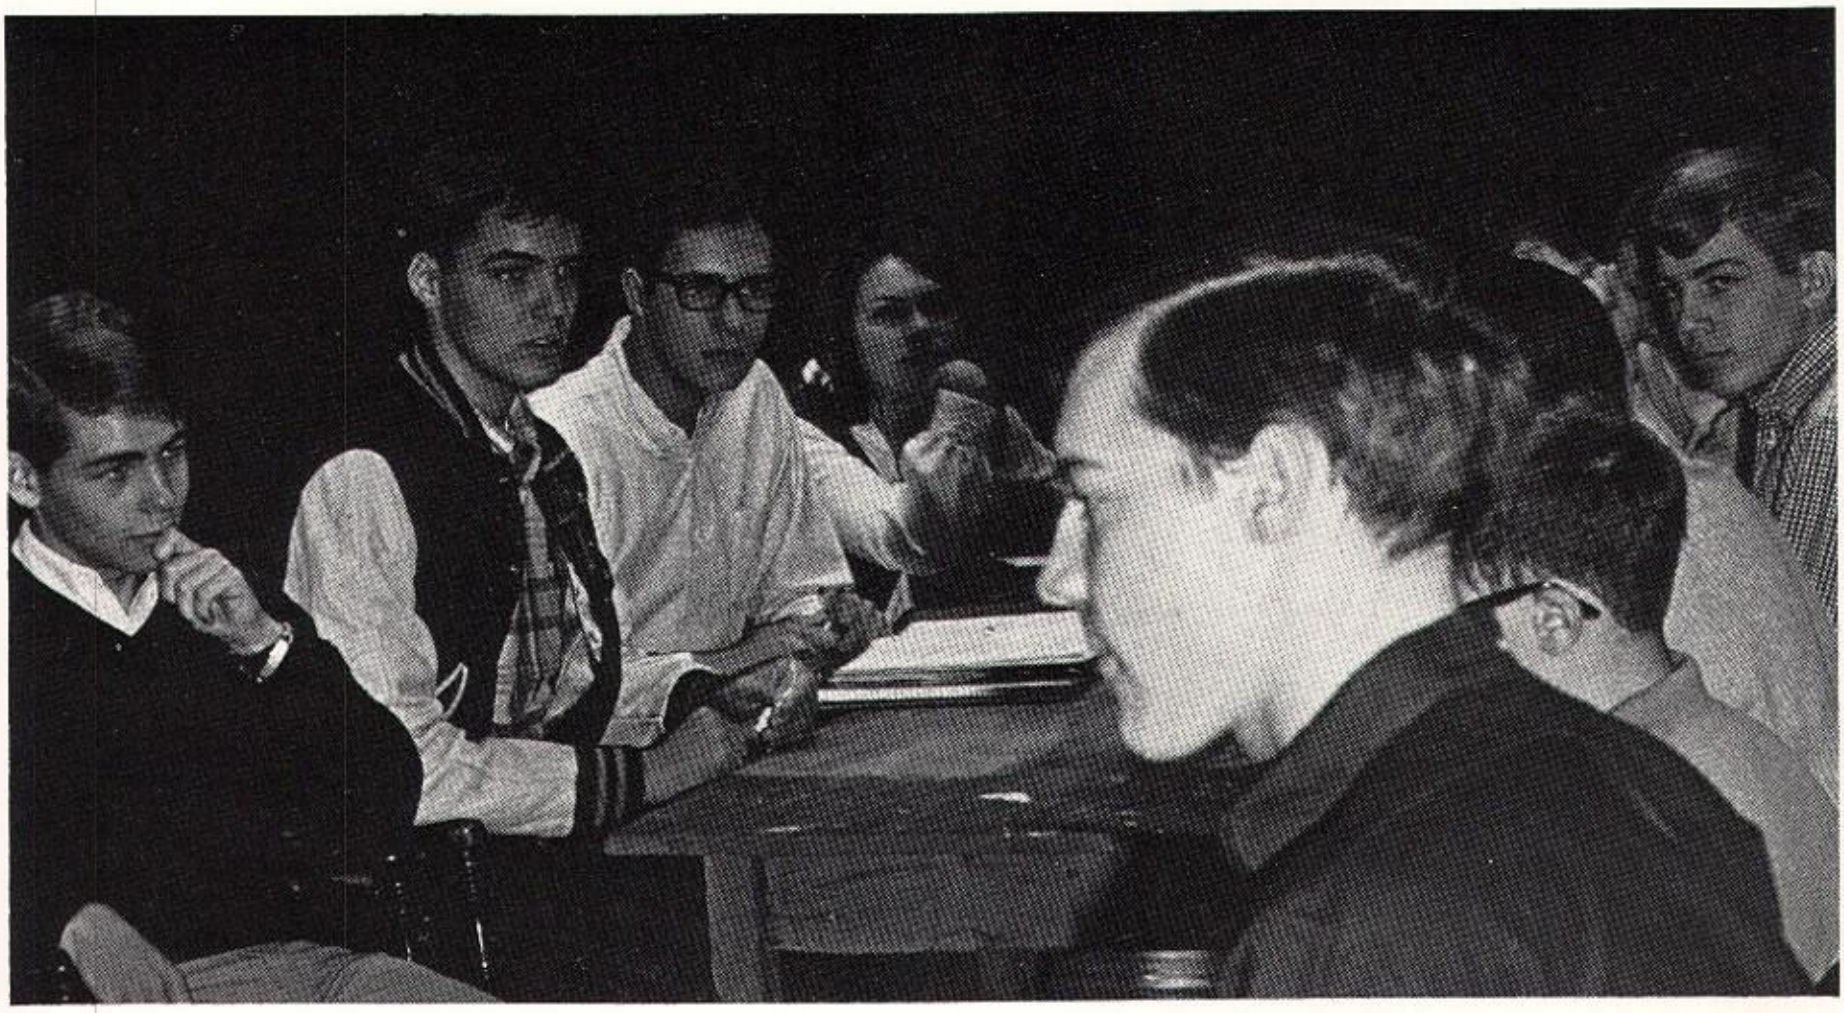
Troy's Council Applies Democratic Methods

ALL-SCHOOL and class officers of Topeka High's Student Council showed competent leadership and much enthusiasm this year by promooting and helping to pass several beneficial motions. Besides successfully meeting its legislative responsibilites, the Council sponsored social activities and took an active part in other school projects. The all-school Christmas Party in December, the main event of the year for many Trojans, was one of these. The election varsity early in the year, Honor-T awards, Officer Training Course in the fall, and the Christmas Card Post Office were other worthwhile projects undertaken this year.



PRESIDING over all-school assemblies is one of the jobs of Mike Jackson, President of Student Council.

STUDENT Council members listen carefully as a new bill is proposed.



Reps Strive to Better School and Colleagues

TO BRING student government and the students closer together was the goal of this year's Rep Council. Each homeroom elected a representative in the fall to attend the Council each week and voice their likes and dislikes as well as their suggestions for improvements. The purpose of the Council was to insure the rights of students to share the responsibilities of and have a voice in their own government. Activities of Rep Council included the organization of Homecoming, Queen of Courts, and basketball and football season's Parents' Night.

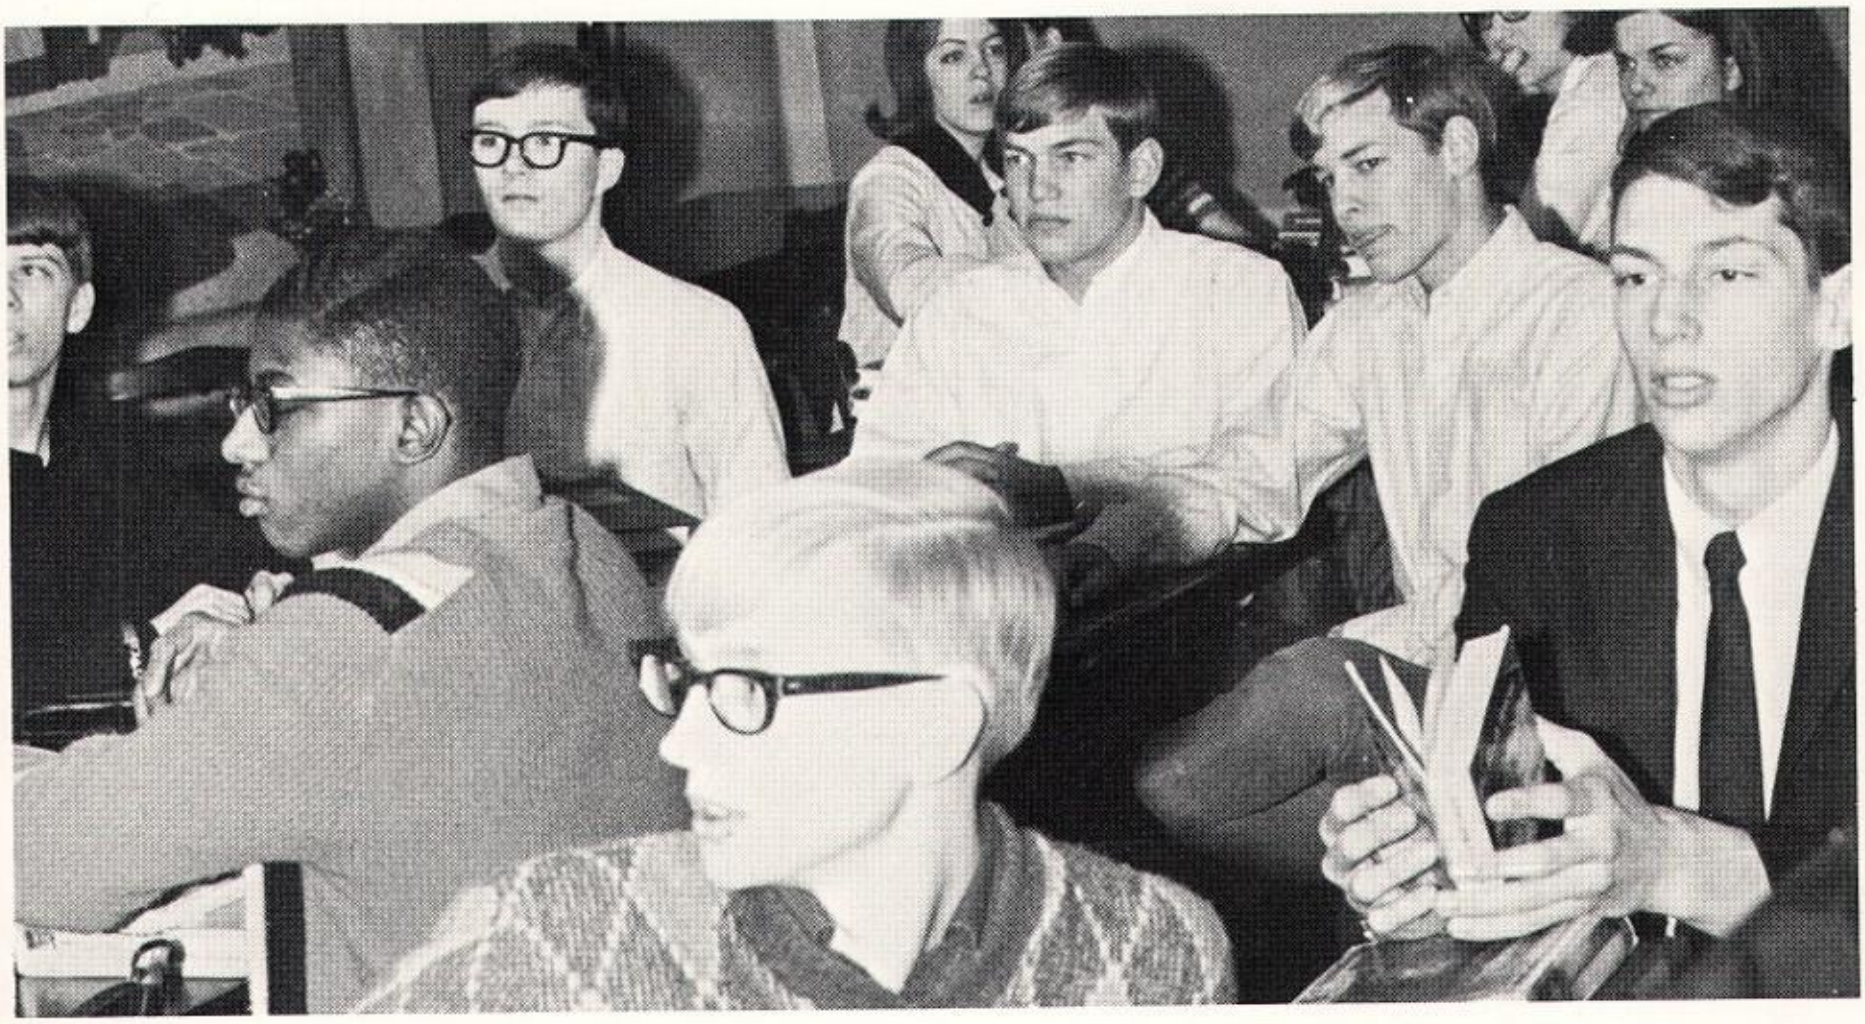
Upperclassmen Assist In Additional Activities

TWO boys and two girls from each senior homeroom formed the Senior Boys' and Senior Girls' Councils. These special groups accepted responsibilities assigned by the principal, and they carried out other duties not performed by Student Government. Early in the year the councils served as hosts and hostesses at the annual Topeka High Open House and were in charge of measuring for caps and gowns in preparing for graduation. In the spring the members and alternates handled the sale of senior announcements, directed the junior high students who visited the school, and hosted the Occupational Information Hour.

SECRETARY of Senior Girls' Council, Suzanne Davis, checks roll at a meeting of the combined councils.

SENIOR council members receive instructions on how to take orders for graduation announcements.



Wide Variety Provides Interesting Assemblies

MILITARY officials are hosted at the annual Veteran's Day Assembly.

BEGINNING with the "Pledge of Allegiance" and ending with the singing of the school song, each Friday morning found Trojans taking a welcome break from classroom routine. Weekly assemblies had a wide variety of entertainment ranging from rallies, election speeches, and talks from local government officials and university presidents, to amusing skits and presentation of party royalty. The Department of Performing Arts presented many of the traditional assemblies such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter programs, as well as previews of plays. Spring brought the athletic awards, scholarships, Honor-T awards, and Class Day assemblies, bringing the year to a close. Imagination and enthusiasm helped to make Troy's assemblies of top quality.

"BEAT Wyandotte" was the chant of the THS cheerleaders at one of the many pep assemblies.

A FORMER THS student, Mrs. Brad Sheafor, and her two sons entertain at the Christmas assembly with "Little Drummer Boy."

SPECIAL songs were presented at an assembly by the K-Men, a select group chosen from the K-State Boys' Glee Club.

"THERE Is Nothing Like a Dame" presented background music for a routine by the THS Drill Team in a spring assembly honoring winter sports.

Activities, Deadlines Create A Hectic Year

TOPEKA High's 1967 SUNFLOWER was published this year by its able staff of fourteen members. Each literary editor saw that every deadline was met on time with the fullest efficiency. Editor and advisor worked side-by-side double-checking each page layout and making plans. The staff was kept busy planning photographs, arranging layouts, and writing copy and headlines. They attempted to produce a most successful and well-planned yearbook containing all the year's social and academic activities. In an ambitious atmosphere, the staff met each day in the Journalism room fourth hour, besides putting in extra time before and after school and at home.

Staff Meets Deadlines For Weekly Publication

EACH week Trojans received the student-published newspaper, The WORLD. Activities in and around school filled four informative pages. This year a major change was made on the staff. Instead of having one editor-in-chief, there were two co-editors, which made the load of responsibility and work lighter. Three new columns were started: "Muses" by Melissa Owen, the Faculty Corner where a teacher expressed his views of a situation in an editorial, and a sports column by Les Kurtz. The Christmas literary edition featuring short stories and poetry by THS writers as well as student advertising, and the special graduation edition were two highlights.

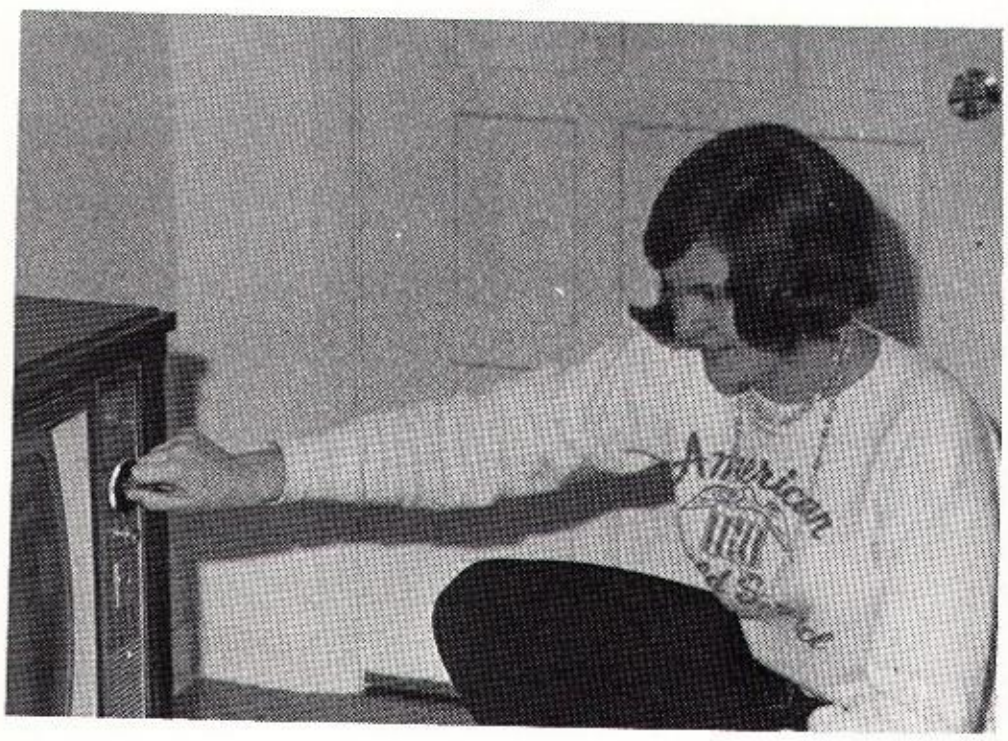
—BELINDA MEYER

'Jolly Good, Cheerio' Fascinating To Trojans

HAVING lived in the US for one year as a foreign exchange student, Belinda Meyer has both learned and introduced new cultures. Belinda's family in Florida, South Africa consists of her parents, two brothers, and two sisters. In America she was a member of Candy Hedberg's family. She played the violin and was active in Topeka Youth Symphonies and THS orchestra. At her school each day's courses were different from the previous, and students were required to wear uniforms. She felt that student government at THS was very effective and hoped to carry some of its ideas back to her school. Through the AFS program, Belinda has formed close bonds with Trojans, learning that all people of the world are basically the same.

MODERN civilization is reflected in Belinda's home town of Johannesburg.

A FAVORITE family sport was ping-pong. Belinda and Candy formed a good team in doubles.



WATCHING television was a new experience for Belinda.

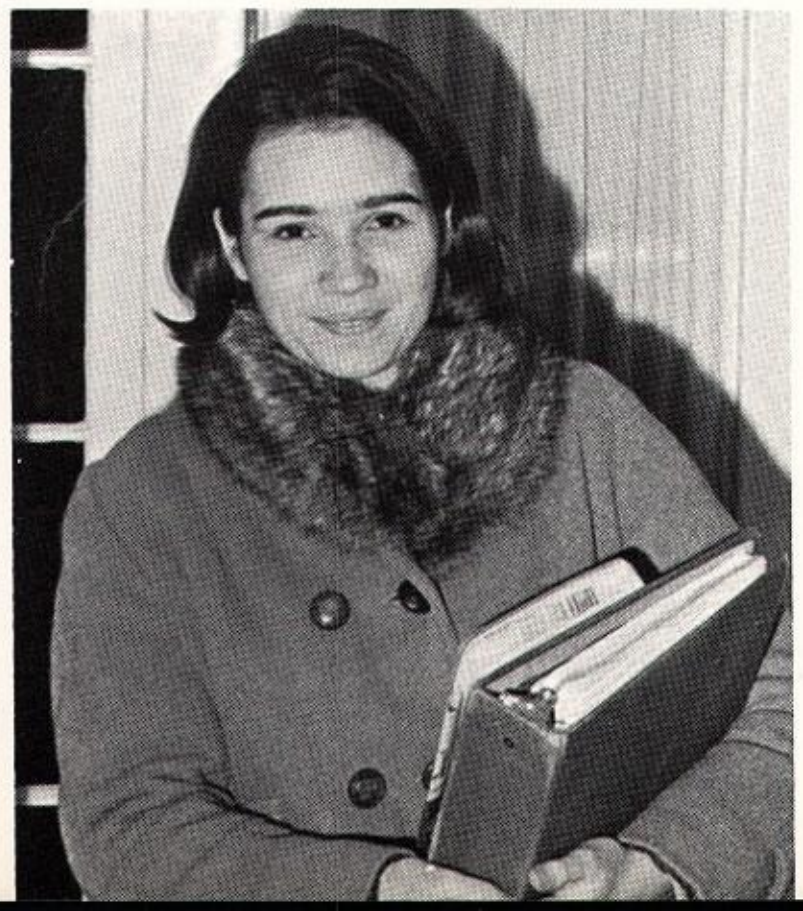
SHOWING a native costume of Africa, Belinda models a Bantu blanket for Candy Hedberg, Mr. Hedberg, Mrs. Hedberg, and Kevin Hedberg.

SINGING around the piano was their favorite family activity. Sonia, Mr. Charles Marling, Mary Marling, and Mrs. Marling sing a selection from "My Fair Lady".

ROASTING marshmellows in the fireplace was a unique experience for Sonia.

LOCATED on a hillside, Sonia's home reflects beauty in Brazil.

HAPPY to arrive home after a busy day at school, Sonia enters her American home.



—SONIA KERR

Simple American Life Impresses Brazilian

SAO PAULO, Brazil is the home of Sonia Kerr, a THS student, who lived in the US for one year with Mary Marling's family. Her Brazilian family consists of two brothers and her parents. In her free time Sonia enjoyed singing and playing her guitar. School in Brazil was six days a week, although students only went half a day. She liked the many clubs in THS; her school had only an association enabling them to take field trips to factories. She was impressed with the fact that life in America was so easy and that people found the simple ways to do things. She also noticed the great freedom that teens seemed to have. Both Sonia and Trojans strengthened youth ties as a result of this exchange.

—PRESIDENTS COUNCIL

Organization Sponsors Leadership Training

GATHERING together for meetings at various times during the year, was the relatively new Presidents' Council. The group consisting of the presidents of each club at Troy, listened to speakers and discussed such topics as parliamentary procedure, how to increase club members' participation, and leadership training. The organization was sponsored by Principal Glenn E. Burnette.

CHIEF Justice...Craig Price.

—JUDICIAL COUNCIL

THS Code Enforced With Help Of Council

HAVING existed at Topeka High for many years, Judicial Council was put into effect for the first time this year. Organized to take some of the burden off of the counselors, the Council was a great success. With the help of the faculty and students, the Trojan Code was more fully enforced than ever before.

—SCIENCE FAIR

Experiments Achieve Excellence And Honors

TROJANS entered in the Topeka Regional Science Fair in April and gained valuable experience and knowledge through their various worthwhile experiments. The students started these projects far in advance, many at the beginning of school, in order to complete them without rushing and to recheck their results. Trojans placed high on the list of honors.

YOUNG scientist Richard Fleming proceeds with final phases of his Science Fair exhibit.

—MODEL U.N.

Delegates Gain Insight On Worldwide Affairs

TROJAN delegations to the Model United Nations, under the direction of sponsors Mr. Hill, Mr. Van Slyck, and Mr. Dilly, showed their leadership and initiative at the fourth annual mock U.N. session March 28. Troy sent representatives from eight countries, including the U.S.A., Philippines, Kuwait, Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, Ghana, and Greece.

DUSCUSSING plans for the Model U.N. are juniors Karl Menninger and Diane Powers.

—BELLAMY

Cherry Creek Chosen To Receive 1966 Award

CHERRY Creek High School of Englewood, Colorado, was chosen as the 1966 Bellamy Award recipient. Topeka High School sent a delegation to the ceremony which consisted of offical representative Mike Jackson, Kristen Dutton, Marsha Martin, Roger Sallman, faculty sponsor Miss Martha Herrick, and principal Mr. Glenn Burnette.

OFFICIAL representative, Mike Jackson, presents a traditional picture of the tower to the Bellamy school.

THS REPS to Cherry Creek were Mr. Burnette, Kristen Dutton, Miss Martha Herrick, Mike Jackson, Miss Margaret Miller, National Bellamy director; Marsha Martin, and Roger Sallman.

—N.Y.-WASHINGTON TOUR

Travelers View Their Country's Heritages

INFORMED citizens of tomorrow are the high school students of today. The Kansas Council on World Affairs annually sponsors a tour for juniors and seniors to Washington, D.C., New York City, and the United Nations. Trojans left by train April 9 for the trip. They toured the Lincoln Memorial, Congressional Library, Mt. Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery, the White House, Washington Monument, and the capital building. In New York they saw the Empire State Building, Greenwich village, China Town, Wall Street, the United Nations, and took a boat ride to the Statue of Liberty. They enjoyed shopping on Fifth Avenue. Through this trip, a deeper understanding of government was gained, as well as a feeling of deep pride in this country's heritage.

DANCING in the street before his wedding is Alfred Doolittle and Mrs. Hopkins.

"OW!" "OW!" screams Eliza as she snatches coins from the street.

DRESS rehearsal is tiring to members of the orchestra and stage crews.

"I AIN'T no guttersnipe!" Eliza yells to Higgins.

"LOTS of chocolate for me to eat, Lots of coal makin' lots of heat . . . Oh, wouldn't it be loverly."

"I WILL never let a woman in my life!" sings Higgins to Pickering.

—'MY FAIR LADY'

Experiment Changes Cockney To Duchess

LONDON is the scene of an experiment involving the lives of three people. A scholar of phonetics, Henry Higgins, makes a bet with Colonel Pickering that he can transform a Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, into a Duchess. Eliza must learn new manners and a new speech. She wins the heart of Freddy at the Ascot races, and then goes to the Embassy Ball. She passes her test, and Higgins wins his bet. However, Eliza has fallen in love with him; and when he takes all the credit, she is deeply hurt and runs away. Higgins, shocked when he finds her missing, searches frantically for her. Suddenly he realizes how important she is to him as a woman. Contentment and happiness fill him when he looks up from his sorrow to see Eliza has come home to him.

ELIZA meets society at the Ascot races.

ANGERED by her flippancy, Higgins is tempted to strangle Eliza.

GLEEFULLY dancing the night away are Eliza and Higgins.

"DON'T talk of love burning inside. If you're in love, show me. Eliza tantalizes Freddy.

—YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

Unique Family Sets Uproarious Times

EXPLODING fireworks created the atmosphere for "You Can't Take It With You", by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The comedy concerned an unusual family of nine, each pursuing his own strange interests. Grandpa, the head of the household, owed the government twenty-four years of back taxes. Penny wrote obscene plays to make use of a typewriter delivered by mistake. Her daughter, Alice, fell in love with Tony Kirby, the vice president of a large firm. Problems arose, however, when their families met and discovered the contrasting social differences. Effective lighting and realistic Victorian setting made the plot believable.

—WATER SHOW

Aquanauts Play, Romp Through Live Toyland

CONCLUDING seven months of planning and hard practice, the annual Squid Club show became a reality on the evenings of April 5,6,7. Starting in the fall, the officers and sponsors tackled the computer-like job of placing all members in several numbers, choosing a theme, and assigning choreographers. Music was chosen and practices began. After-school time was donated to the tiring rehearsals, which often resulted in major revisions. Much to the relief and satisfaction of the swimmers as well as the enjoyment of the spectators, the performances finally came. Dolls played, airplanes buzzed, and fire engines raced in the Squid's Toyland.

The royal couple and their attendants then moved to the cafeteria to form a receiving line. After congratulations they started the first dance, which led to a sparkling evening. Refreshments of cake and punch were served. The combined efforts of Student Congress and class sponsors helped to make the party one of the year's highlights.

NECESSARY need for social activity was met adequately with more than thirty clubs and organizations. Clubs helped the student to use his academic learning outside of the classroom and to further hobbies and interests. Service organizations served the community in various projects. The Officers' Training Course was open to all officers of clubs for the purpose of strengthening their leadership. These programs aided students in school spirit and participation.

ORGANIZATIONS

—AFS COUNCIL

Council Aim Is Peace Through Understanding

THE leadership of AFS Council was shown this year by bringing the Trojan AFS Club a successful season, the profits of which will bring two new foreign students to Troy next year and help send Trojans abroad. The two foreign students sponsored by AFS Club this year were Belinda Meyer from South Africa and Sonia Kerr from Brazil. The council helped make their stay at THS a more enjoyable and profitable one for them and for all Trojans by promoting understanding between our culture and theirs and by sponsoring many interesting and successful school activities in which all THS students had a chance to participate.

—AFS CLUB

Club Supports Council In Improving Relations

AFS Club, in only its third year at Topeka High, grew to be one of the largest and most active clubs in Troy. Although it was largely the responsibility of AFS Council to plan programs and projects, they could not have been successful without the excellent participation of the club members, who were always willing to help in such events as a hootenanny, a rummage sale, and the faculty-senior men basketball game. Besides working diligently to support the next year's club, students participated in the many fine monthly programs to increase their understanding of the world, its problems, and its people.

—NFL

Forensics Excellence— Trojan Debaters' Goal

UNDER the sponsorship of a new debate coach, Troy's society of speakers flourished. In November, the debaters hosted the 32nd Annual THS Invitational Tournament, the oldest in the state. Intricate scheduling, training of judges and timekeepers, and tabulating results were NFL members' duties. Trojan debaters participated in the NFL debate tournament in December, and Troy's best speakers competed in the NFL speech festival. Trojans took the place of the state representatives and senators when they attended NFL Student Congress in May. Picnics opened and closed the year, and a spring banquet brought back memories of the year and recognition to NFL members.

Mu Alpha Theta, the national honorary math society, entertained various speakers at meetings twice each month. To be eligible for the club, a student had to be a senior currently enrolled in his third year of math and also had to have a "B" average. The purpose of the club was to encourage students to continue in the field of mathematics.

JUNIOR Engineering Society, JETS, is one of Topeka High's newest clubs. Supported by the Kansas Engineering Society, JETS was designed to promote engineering interests in its members. At bi-weekly meetings boys listened to speakers, heard lecturers, watched films, and viewed various demonstrations. One of the highlights of the year was a visit to Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Day in October at Kansas University. At the University members heard lectures and were entertained by tours through the exhibits.

MOST of the students taking German at Topeka High who wished to extend their knowledge beyond that of the language were active in German Club. The members learned much about German literature, customs, people, and history at the many interesting programs. Besides having films and speakers, the club carried out plans for a dance, a German dinner, a picnic, and a hay-rack ride. To raise money for these and other events, the members sold cokes after school, participated in the inter-language varsity, and sponsored several other money-making projects.

TOPEKA High students with an interest in teaching as a career were enabled to explore more closely the many fields of the profession in the Future Teachers Association. Programs were planned to help the members better prepare for a teaching career. Some of the more helpful programs were those at which professional educators or student teachers provided information based on their own experiences, problems, and ideas. By sponsoring several money-raising projects, the club was able to send delegates to the annual state convention. The members also carried out plans for a Christmas breakfast and the annual spring banquet.

Literary Minds Explore Adventures in Reading

LIBRARY Club found many ways of increasing their literary knowledge by sponsoring various activities this year. Being an active club, they were kept busy with these projects all year. The club attended talks throughout the year given by various speakers on popular books. In the fall they sponsored a car wash. This was to raise money for their activities which included a trip to Abilene. A Christmas party was held in December for members of the club. Talks were given to the club by both of the foreign students. Representatives of Library Club attended the KLASS Convention in Emporia this spring. The club also had a recognition breakfast for veteran members.

USHER club proved to be one of the most vital service clubs at THS this year. The members added to the success of Trojan dramatic and musical productions by efficiently seating the eager audiences who attended these performances. They met before each production to prepare programs and receive ushering assignments. The male members attended the performances dressed in suits, and the girls wore formal gowns. All displayed the utmost courtesy and respect towards all who came. Since they were a service club with the sole purpose of ushering plays and the operetta, the club found no need for dues, officers, or regular meetings.

—FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

Planning The Future Home Life Of Interest

FHA was successful during the year in fulfilling its purpose of preparing its members for future life in the home. Programs were planned around objectives provided by the FHA National Program of Work. They concerned such things as good health, careers, morals, family relations, good manners, citizenship, budgeting, and individuality. Specific programs included a speech by Dr. Evelyn Gendel on maintaining correct weight, a foreign foods buffet for which the girls prepared dishes from countries of the city AFS students, a Christmas party for underpriviledged children, speeches by both of Topeka High's AFS students, and the annual installation and tea in May.

The club practiced weekly throughout the year working towards their climax, a three-night water show which was given in the spring. The show featured various members of the club exhibiting their skill at diving, dancing, and symmetrical group swimming. The hard work and long hours of practice, put in by the girls during the months before the show, paid off this year by enabling the club to present an excellent arrangement of entertainment.

—CHEERLEADERS

Rousing Hurrahs Spark Sportsmens' Endeavors

TROJAN cheers for 1967 were led by seven of the nation's best cheerleaders, as was shown by their "first" rating at clinic. Wearing new uniforms, they could be found wherever pep and enthusiasm were needed. The girls encouraged every Trojan towards much school spirit and good sportsmanship. The two squads, A and B, were elected by the combined pep clubs. They led cheers at varsity and B-team games, at pep assemblies, and minor sports. Besides these activities they enjoyed several social functions during the year. These helped to make the girls a more closely-knit group. Sponsor of the group was Miss Elsie Medlin.

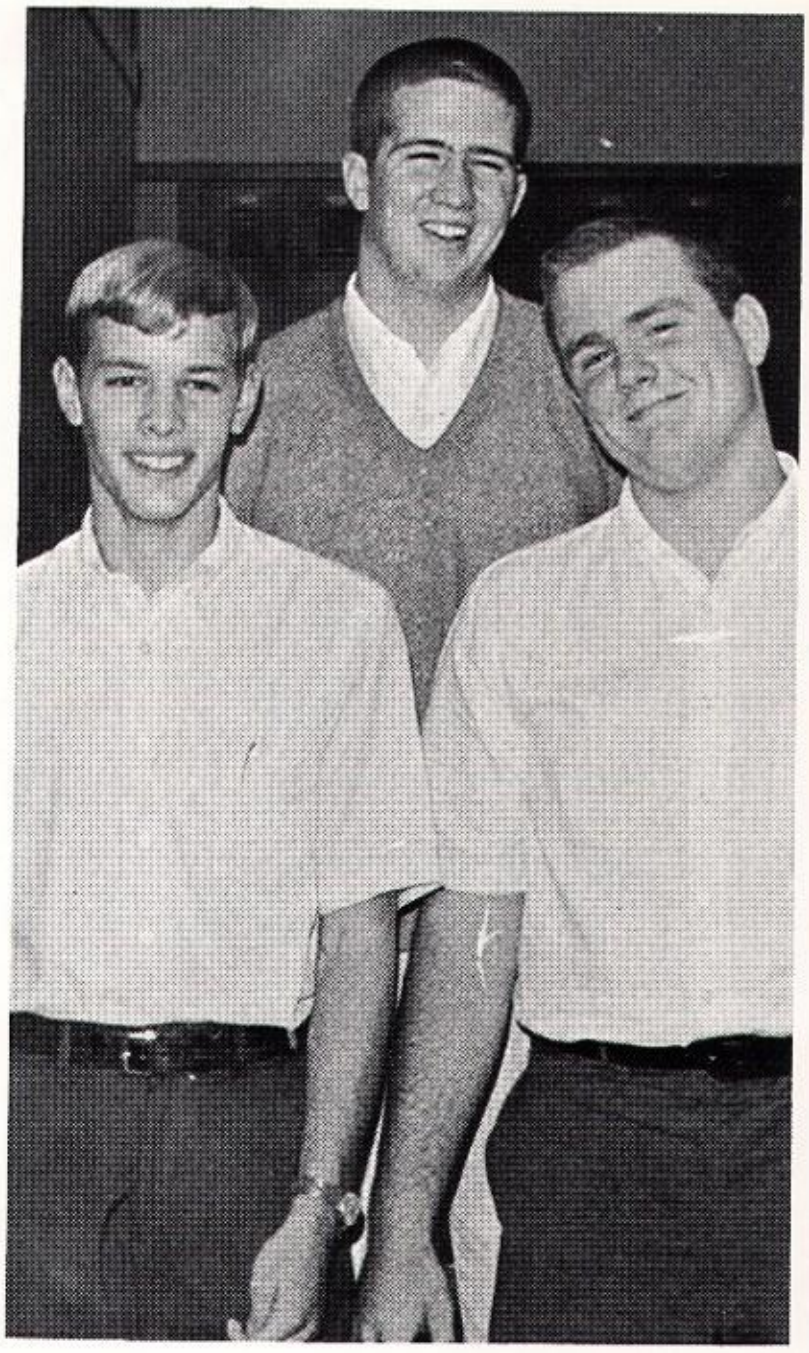
—PEP CLUB

Enthusiastic Spectators Back Teams In Effort

"A SONG for the land. . ." sang the three Trojan Pep Clubs after every game this year. Not only did Topeka High's Pep Clubs exhibit school spirit throughout Troy's athletic seasons, but they also were involved in many school activities. Combined Girls Pep sponsored a Western Party, two WPA varsities, made banners, and sold ribbons for each game. Girls Pep was made up of Regular Girls Pep, wearing traditional black sweaters with gold T's and Honor Pep wearing white blazers and black skirts. Honor Pep consisted of fifty girls who had been the most active participants in Combined Girls Pep the previous year. The clubs cheered and gave morale to the teams at home games as well as out-of-town games.



BOYS' pep officers are Bill Barker, Ted Nash, and Mike Blakely

Alma Mater

A song for the land where the sunflowers bloom;
Hail to our city so fair;
And three times three with a Sis! Boom! Bah!
For the high school whose colors we wear.
For we are the students of the THS
Sing we the tribute that our hearts confess,
Ever we glory in thy proud success,
Hail to the Black and Gold forever

Pep Song

Come on and give three cheers for old Topeka High
One-two-three, Rah! Rah! Rah!
Show the foe that they cannot deny Victory
Team! Team!
Let every Trojan son know that we're behind the gun
Till the battle is won.
And if we all pitch in, another victory we'll win
For Topeka High!

A-TEAM Cheerleaders lead the spectators in a rousing cheer boosting the morals of the basketball team.

THS Gridders Struggle Through Rough Season

TOPEKA High School gridders, plagued by injuries and a lack of experience, completed a rugged season with a one win-eight loss record. Many of the games were decided by only a few points and could have turned in favor of Troy The brightest spot in the season was Troy's Homecoming victory over league opponent Shawnee Mission West. The enthusiasm of the student body increased as the season progressed largely because of the high morale of the team. The experience gained by the many promising sophomores and juniors provided hopes for more successful future seasons.

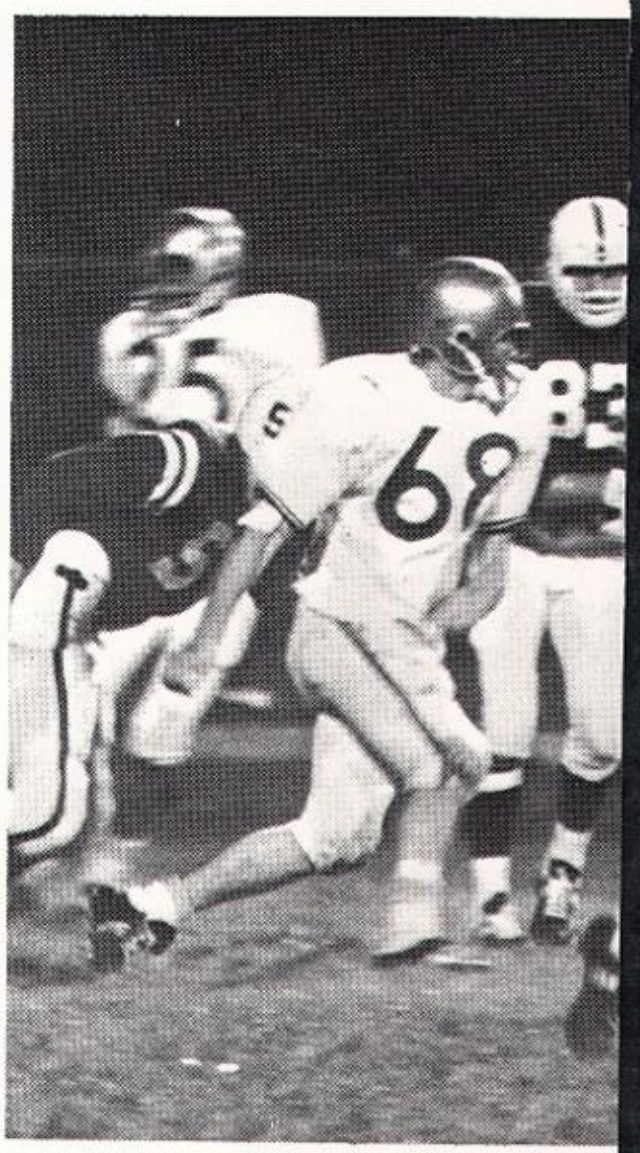
Victory, Royalty Top Homecoming Festivity

HIGHLIGHTING the 1966-67 Homecoming was the crowning of queen Nancy Crites. Homecoming weekend began Friday, October 21 with the assembly where the queen candidates and their escorts were formally introduced. Following the assembly and skit was the traditional parade downtown. The marching THS band and majorettes preceeded the girls in their cars. They were followed by the administration, pep clubs, and cheerleaders. Saturday night at Moore Bowl THS tromped S.M. West 19-7. At half-time ceremonies Nancy was crowned by Mr. Warren V. Heusted, as gold balloons drifted into the black sky. The last event of the Homecoming weekend was the varsity where Nancy and her attendants led the dance climaxing the Homecoming festivities.

MARCHING band and majorettes lead the annual Homecoming parade.

ROUSING shouts of "Hoy, Hoy, Mighty Troy" are sounded by the cheerleaders and pep clubs in the parade.

CANDIDATE Paige Weber is presented to the student body in assembly, as Nancy Crites watches.

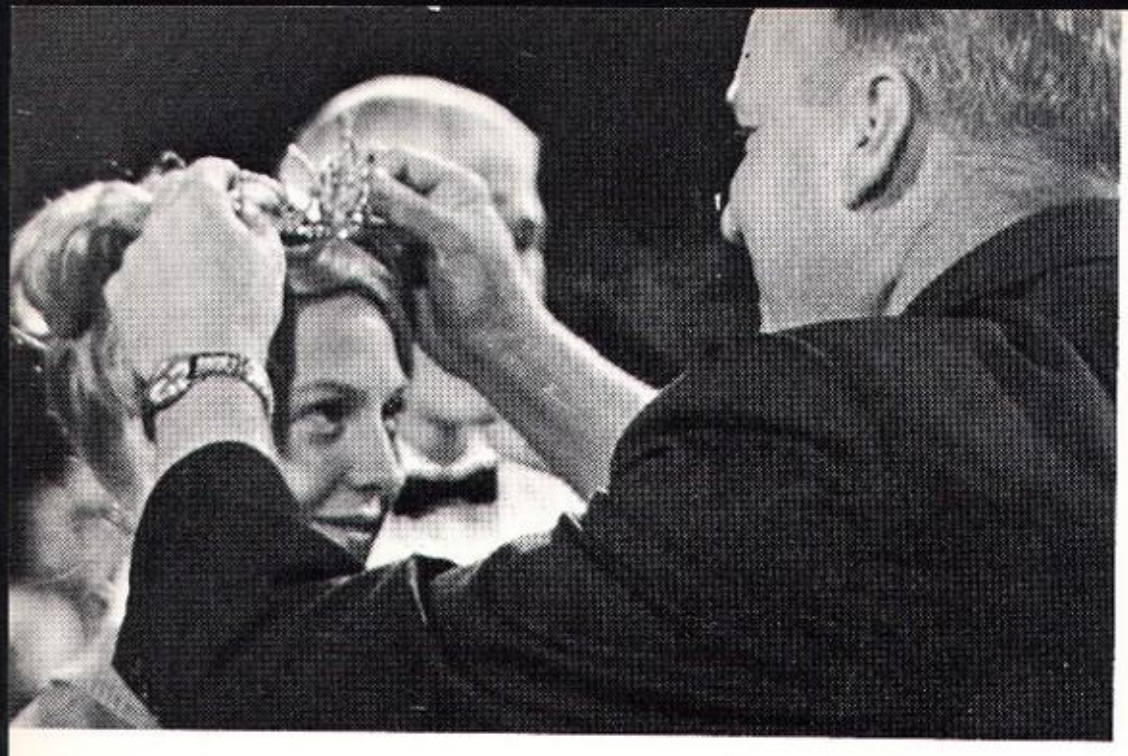


VILLAINS Peter Graumann and Gene Griffus plot to promote their own candidate, "Ugly Christine", for Homecoming queen.

UNDERDOG Greg Payton "flies in" to defeat villain Peter Graumann in the Homecoming skit.

DUCKING and dodging, Randy Lyden (68) and Joel Latta(75) scurry to outwit S.M. West.

CANDIDATES and their escorts eagerly await the crowning of the Homecoming queen.



SMILING radiantly, Nancy Crites is crowned queen by Mr. Warren V. Huested, past president of the Topeka Board of Education.

ANTICIPATION grows as Roger Sallman escorts Nancy Crites through the T-formation.

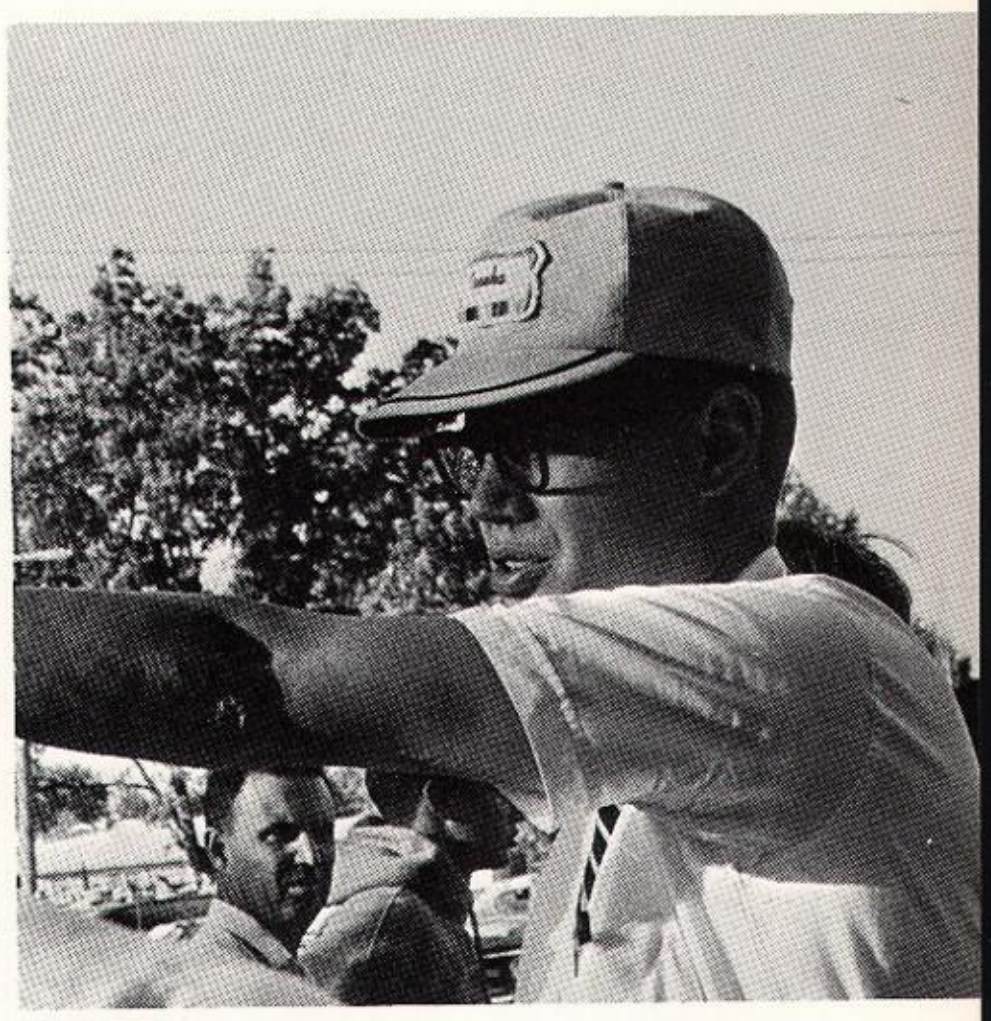
Inexperienced Harriers Suffer Losing Season

HURT by a lack of experience and the presence of only one returning letterman from the previous year's squad, Topeka High's cross country was unable to leave an impressive season's record. The team suffered another blow when veteran coach "Heavy" Erwin missed the season because of an illness. However, his replacement, Norman Schiesser, was able to fill the vacancy quite efficiently. Although the team's showing left much to be desired, the progress and enthusiasm of the promising underclassmen provided hopes for more successful seasons in the future.



CROSS country coach Schiesser reviews the course.

FACES of Trojan harriers Walter Craft, Clardy Vinson, and Charles Abrams reveal mixed emotions as they near the end of a grueling race.

All-Around Quickness Yields Fourth In State

ACTION and excitement were present at every game as the Trojan basketball squad finished a highly successful season of 18 wins and 6 losses. The team was led by a highly-perfected first string of returning lettermen. Topeka High placed first in the Topeka Invitational Tournament defeating Lawrence in one of the most exciting games of the season by a score of 72 to 71. Trojan courtmen also placed first at the Regional Tournament which sent them on to the State Tournament in Lawrence. Top victory and honors were received by the team when they placed fourth in the State, missing third place by only two points.

—QUEEN OF COURTS

Valentine Coronation Honors Royalty Trio

IN A TRADITIONAL ceremony highlighting winter sports, Troy crowned the third queen of this school year. A morning assembly began the festivities with an original skit, "Cinderfella." Three lovely candidates were then presented to the student body. The game's halftime coronation, featuring the "heart of Troy" was both sentimental and regal. Queen Vicky Smith was serenaded with "You Are Beautiful" then crowned by former queen, Kathy Anderson. Following the basketball victory over Lawrence, attendants and escorts accompanied Vicky to the dance, where the girls were again honored. The "Soul Seekers" entertained.

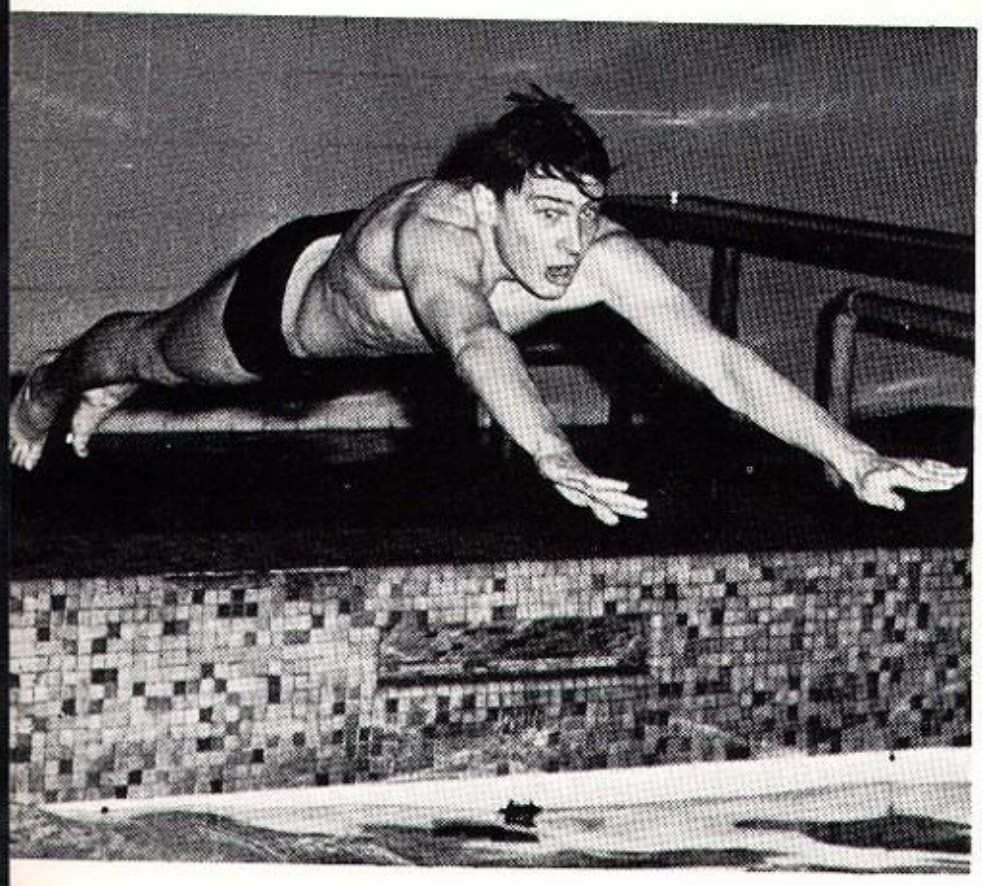
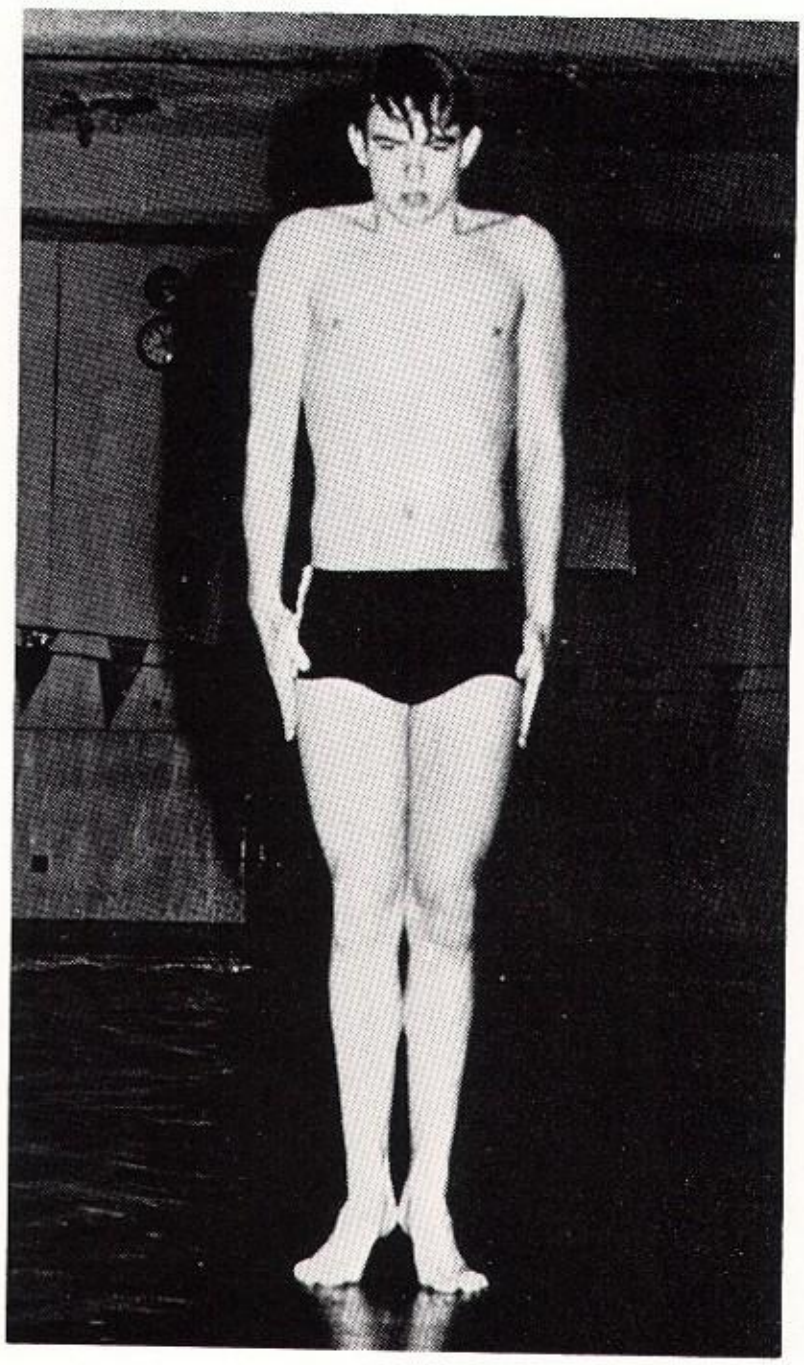
'Chet's Fish' Record Winning Swim Season

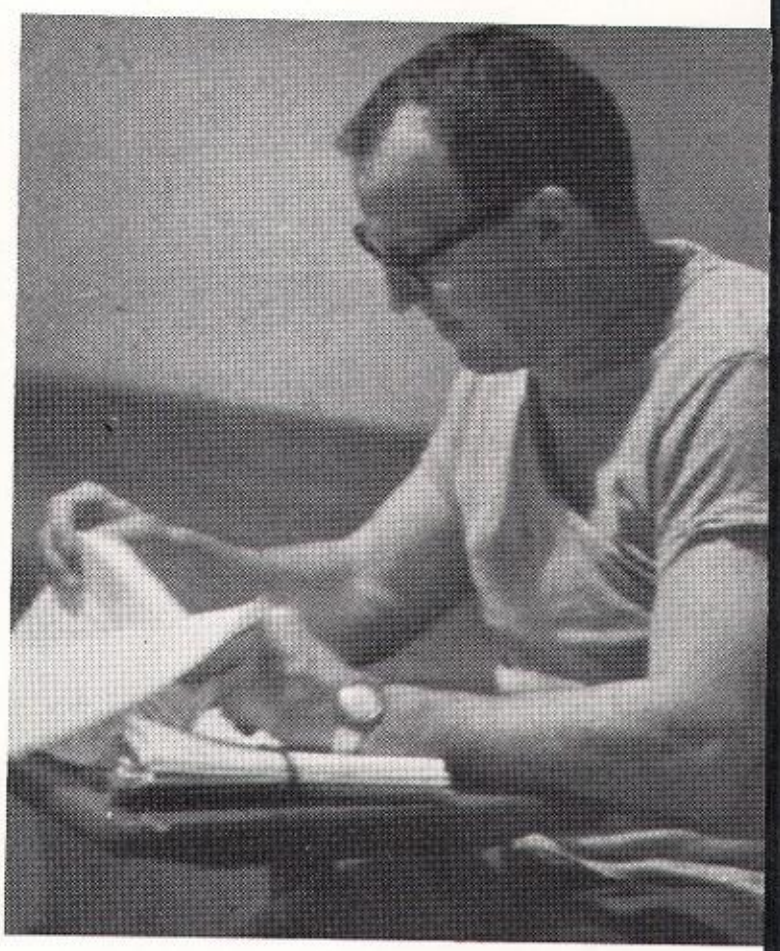
DESPITE predictions of weakness, Trojan swimmers came through with a fine 9-2 season and a third place finish in league. Coach Chet Laney continued his streak of home-meet wins which stretches back to 1960 and upped his overall record to 124 wins and only 36 losses. Seniors whose names came up often were co-captains Travis Cook and Mike Jackson, back-stroker Dave Anderson, and sprint free-styler John Magerkurth. Cook, Anderson, Magerkurth, and sophomore Dale Warren made up a potent medley relay team, and Jackson earned Troy's only points at state with thirds in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events. Junior Clint Young did well this year in the 200 and 400 freestyle.



STRAINING every muscle, Dale Warren reaches for a few extra inches on his dive.

CONCENTRATING in order to gain full body control, Gary Jeffery prepares for a back dive.





COACH Chet Laney checks over his notes while preparing for a meet.

Matmen Begin Slowly, Finish Season Strong

ALTHOUGH Trojan matmen got off to a slow start, the team rapidly improved and gained strength to make an impressive showing the latter half of the season. Despite the final four victory-five loss record in dual meets, the third place finish in a field of eight teams at the Highland Park Invitational tournament and junior Dick Whayne's standing in the state meet, enabled the squad to say they had a successful season. Under the leadership of new head coach Dick Beal and new assistant coach Glen Hightower, the wrestlers showed considerable improvement over the previous year's record. The fine performances of sophomores and juniors as well as the excellent display of team spirit, presented hopes for promising seasons in the future.

TROY'S growing population was divided into three classes. Sophomores entered high school unfamiliar with their new surroundings; however, they soon adapted to the new routine. Juniors participated in money-raising projects in preparation for the Jr-Sr Prom. Seniors devoted their last year of high school towards completion of requirements for graduation, and making plans for the future. The existence of each member of the classes was essential to Troy's development and success.

STUDENTS

LEADERS of the class of '67 are TOP TO BOTTOM: Sheelah Dougherty, Representative; Marsha Martin, Secretary-Treasurer; Janice Bogart, Social Chairman; Dave Clark, Representative; Sid Edwards, Representative; Bill Craig, Projects Chairman; Randy Moke, President; and Randy McGrath, Vice-President.

SELLING tickets to Marcile Frieson are Shirley Dougherty, Jane Perry, and Paige Weber, who spent most of their time fourth hour in the cafeteria.

Graduates Of 1967 Realize Future Goals

FRIENDS, elections, lunchlines, assemblies, finals, and plays . . . together, these describe experiences shared by each Senior in the Class of 1967. Energy and responsibility enabled competent leaders to raise money by selling Trojan stationery and license plates, and sponsoring Senior Breakfasts. A beautiful and sentimental prom will be long remembered. Class Day and graduation ceremonies crowded the last days at THS culminating three memorable years, the Best for each of the seniors in the Class of '67. Though they leave Troy, their record of awards, academic achievements, and contributions to their school will leave a definite mark. Middlemen Focus Time On Money Projects

UNDER the leadership of their excellent class officers, the juniors proved that they had gained valuable experience as sophomores by carrying out a very successful school year. The class' desire to have a successful Junior-Senior Prom, the main project of the year, was shown by everyone's enthusiasm in planning and participating in the many money-raising projects. Included in these projects were a combined car wash and bake sale in October and a chili supper in January. In addition, for several months many members of the class sold advertisements for the programs of the Regional Basketball tournament in February.

Newcomers Find New Challenges, Changes

ALTHOUGH they were all newcomers to Topeka High, the sophomores immediately adapted to the many changes from junior high and organized themselves into an active, smooth-functioning class. After the spirited election of class officers and B-team cheerleaders, the students' interest and participation in the numerous school organizations and activities rapidly increased and continued to do so throughout the remainder of the year. Money for the highly successful sophomore party and other important projects was raised by selling cold drinks and Trojan stationery after school.

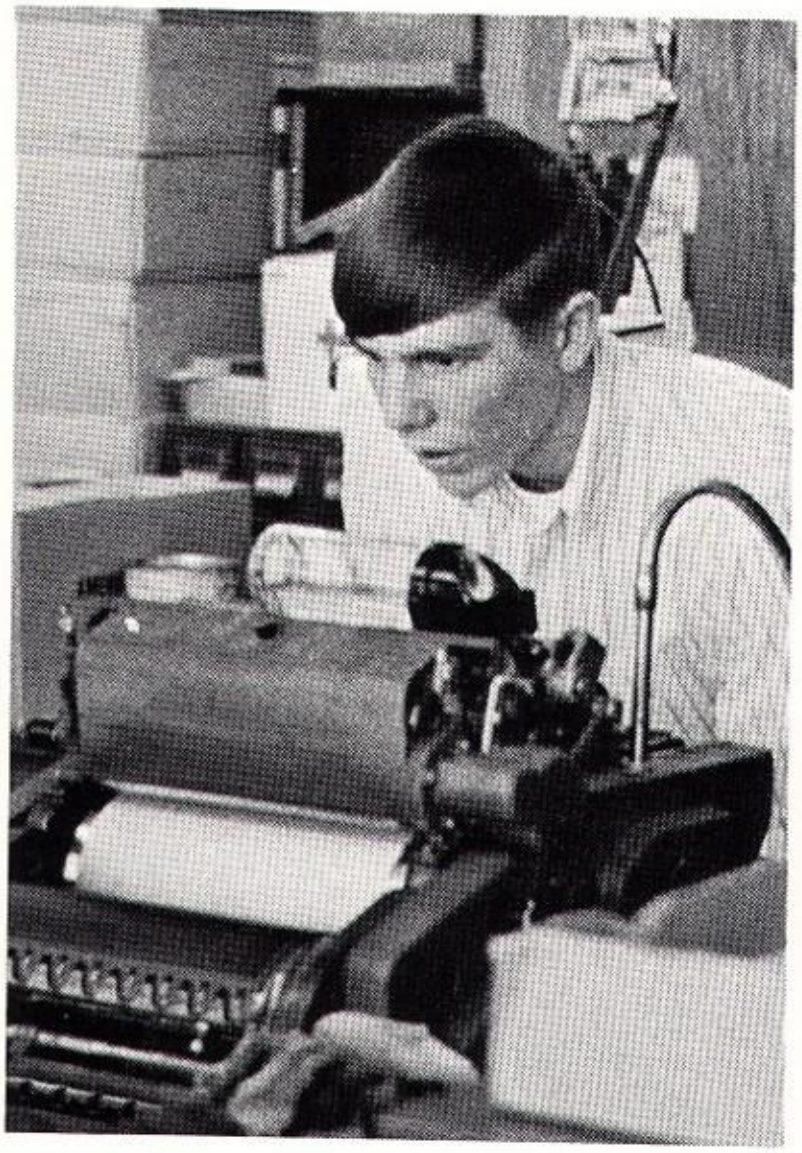
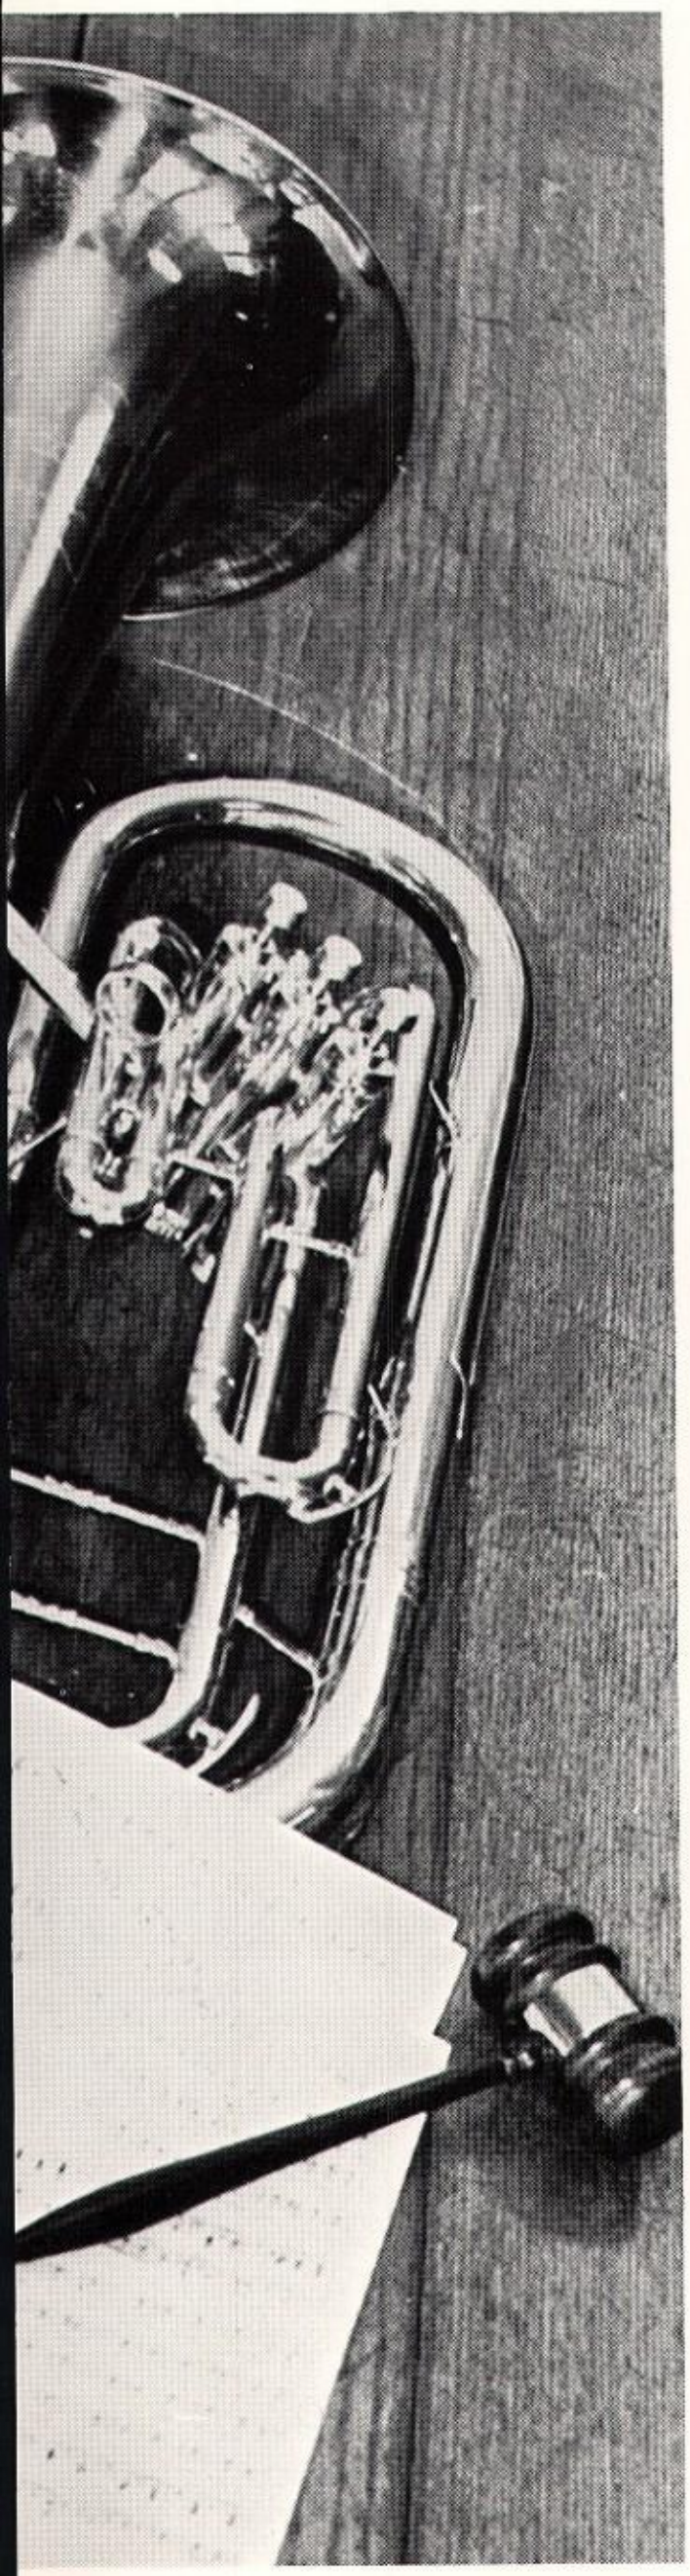
HONOR PIN
DESIGNING FOR
THE STAGE by Doris
ZINKEISEN





BESIDES the regular classroom routine, Trojans had many opportunities to take part in extracurricular activities. Bewildered sophomores entered high school concentrating on familiarizing themselves with new situations. Juniors returned to pursue their individual interests. In their final year at THS, seniors took advantage of many organizations and opportunities leading to their goal.

THERE'S A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR YOU

A Career in Medicine is a most challenging and rewarding Profession.

There is a wide spectrum of opportunities today for the talented and conscientious physician—in practice, teaching, research, administration, industry, schools, public health, foreign service, and in the military forces.

Even greater opportunities lie ahead in the near future as a result of the advances in medical research, the rapidly growing American population, and the public's increasing desire for more medical care.

The progress in medical research is continuing at an ever quickening pace, and the nation will need more physicians who can transform these laboratory successes into direct and indirect health benefits for the public.

The U.S. population is now growing at a rate of 3,000,000 persons each year, due in substantial measure to the high standards of health and medical care which enable more new-born babies to survive and which add years to the lives of our aging citizens.

By 1975 the number of Americans is expected to reach at least 220,000,000 and the nation's medical schools are now striving to accelerate their already impressive expansion programs in order to provide the additional physicians which the nation will require to care for its health needs.

Going Somewhere?

so is Washburn University.

No standing still for us. Just as you, Washburn wants to move ahead, to accomplish things.

Washburn is large enough to help you do just that...large enough to provide quality education but small enough to let you be an individual...large enough to provide all the excitement of sports, contests and social events but small enough to give everyone the chance to participate, to succeed.

And Washburn is continually expanding its horizons... just as you are. New facilities are springing up to accommodate your future and ours.

If you're going somewhere...write the director of admissions, Washburn University, Topeka. We can go along together.

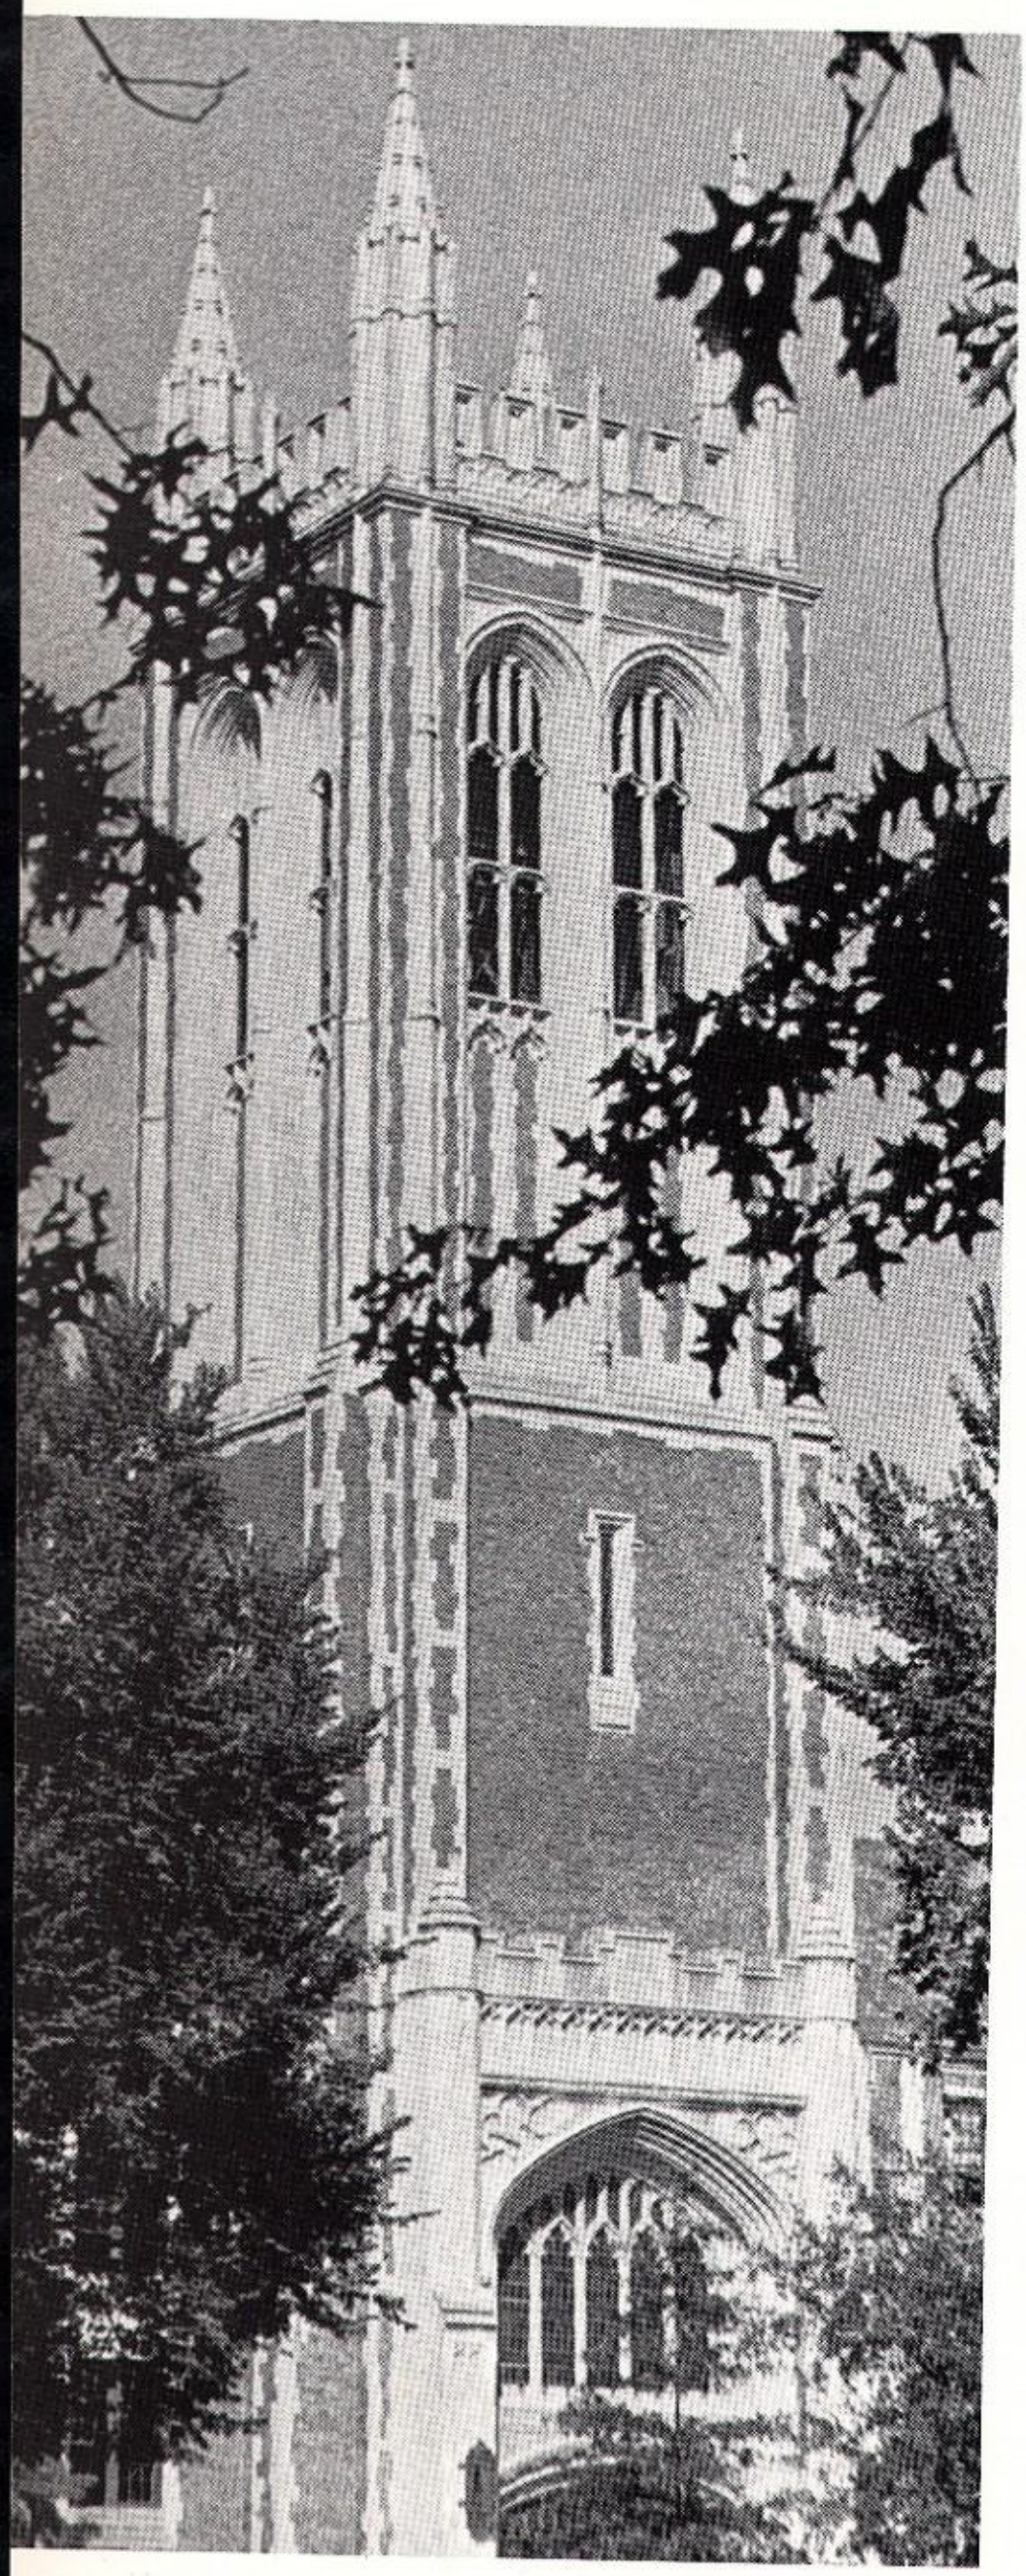
A talented folk singer Peggy Knox, brightens many THS assemblies with her songs and guitar playing.



Troy's Tower is tradition...

Our object of pride...

Weathering storms of time...

Ever beautiful...

Rising spires of inspiration.

IT HAS BEEN a fine and rewarding experience to complete the big job of writing and publishing a king-size yearbook. Exhausted, we are now down to the last page. Our sincere appreciation goes out to all those who helped make the publication of this book possible. Sincere Thanks goes to teachers and administrators for their cooperation in letting us take pictures, to our five student photographers, and to our advertisers. Deepest gratitude goes to our publishers for all their valuable aid and encouragement, and to our advisor, Mrs. Schulteis, for her patience and help every step of the way. The endless hours of overtime work are buried in a pile of memories as we apply the finishing touches and see our book successfully finished. It is our hope that the 1967 SUNFLOWER gives a complete record of a memorable year, and that it pleases every reader. Thank you for letting us bring you an annual we hope you will treasure.

Kathy Sassaman, SUNFLOWER editor
and the 1967 staff
